

Do you have a story to share about the Minneapolis Police Department?

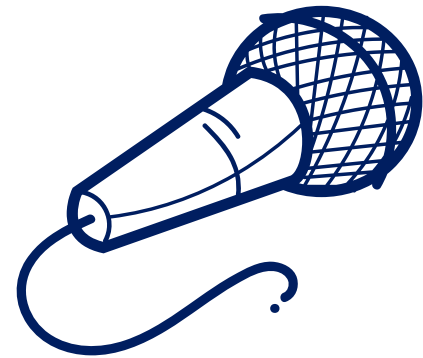

In June 2020, Minnesota Department of Human Rights launched a civil rights investigation into the Minneapolis Police Department. They are investigating MPD's policies, procedures, and practices to determine if they engaged in systemic discriminatory practices.

WILD - the Wanton Injustice Legal Detail - was founded to harness the collective power of Twin Cities Diversity in Practice's membership to remedy systemic anti-Black racism in the Twin Cities by partnering with and amplifying the work of existing community organizations.

WILD is helping to gather information for the Minnesota Department of Human Rights investigation into the Minneapolis Police Department. Volunteers are ready to help people share their stories with MNDHR.

Ready to share your story?

Here are the next steps in the process!

1. Fill out this online form with your contact information. You can also access the form at bit.ly/WILD-MDHR-sign-up. Our form will be open from May 1 through May 31.
2. A volunteer will contact you within two weeks.
3. You and a volunteer will meet over phone or video call. The volunteer will ask you questions about the incident and record your answers for the MNDHR investigation.
4. The volunteer will submit your answers to the MNDHR investigation.

If you have questions about the process, please email info@diversityinpractice.org
